SecondPage.html

- On the second page, you need to create an image map where the user can click below the pin numbers. When a user clicks, it should redirect them to the relevant Wikipedia page of that country.

- Above given is the first half of the third page. The facilities users can get from each class are described in the next half.
- When the user clicks either an image or text inside the cell it should scroll down to its relevant section which displays the details of the facilities.
- At the end of each section which describes the hotel services, there is a link as 'Go to options' which links to the above half of the page. Once the user clicks 'Go to options', the page will scroll to the above half.

Next half of the third page,
